

I am against the ATT/T-Mobile merger as it will result in higher prices, less competition, and less choice overall. Major mergers like this always result in customers getting the bad end of the deal.