

I live in Lawrence Co. Illinois and at present I receive my local TV channels by satalite (Dish Network) from Terre Haute Indiana which is not a good resource for my local weather. The weather is so different than mine most of the time. Evansville Indiana which is Southeast of me is a better coverage of weather alerts than the North that I receive now. I was wondering if there is anyway I could get different local channels.