Docket No. 05-196; Framework for Next Generation 911 Deployment, PS Docket
No. 10-255

Dear Ms. Dortch:

On June 24, 2011, I spoke with Patrick Donovan of the Public Safety and Homeland Security Bureau. During that conversation, I urged that the FCC consider the relationship of any potential testing requirements with the compliance benchmarks. Depending on how those requirements are structured, they could make it impossible for a company to complete the testing necessary to evaluate compliance with the benchmarks.

A copy of this letter is being filed in the above-referenced dockets.

Sincerely,
