"AT&T's takeover of T-Mobile would stifle choice and innovation in the market, harm consumers, and lead to higher prices and fewer jobs nationwide. Don't let AT&T put our mobile future at risk. Please stand with me and reject such reckless consolidation of the mobile industry.".....stop living in the dark ages - technology is ever-changing and change is good and inevitable - this exact thing has happened many times before - like att and cingular - verizon and alltel - it will happen again and its a good thing - we need to improve the technology that is lacking in this country and this is the way to do it - other countries have vast companies that make up far better communication systems that ours and its long past time to improve our present antiquated system in this country and make it better than others or at least the same. please stand by and EMBRACE this change so we can have a better future in our wireless communications.
