

So you can defeat GPS navigation from the ground and you chose to eliminate LORAN as a back up. Now the only system we have is known to be blocked by an overriding Lightsquared signal at less cost than a GA aircraft. DO not allow Lightsquared to interfere with GPS navigation and bring back the already in place LORAN system for a ground based back up navigation.