

From my review of the research concerning the interference that will occur due to the using the close and/or overlapping frequency with GPS, I would like to request that the FCC not grant LightSquared permission to use the close frequency to GPS, but have them use some other frequency that would not impair the GPS accuracy, which a large percentage of Americans depend on and use in business.