

Regarding phone companies billing for third party charges, and in light of the cramming of these third party companies, I support the FCC make it impossible for these companies to bill through the phone companies. As Verizon does, I believe the consumers should be allowed to block all third party charges.