

I am in favor of new regulations to help consumers identify phone cramming charges and believe those responsible should be prosecuted.