

I have been following this for months and don't want to lose connectivity with my Garmin Nuvi when I travel. I also hike and use another Garmin product that would be affected by LightSquared's network. I also work in the Mapping and Survey business and fear a drastic loss of accuracy when working on GPS sensitive projects. I implore you to stop this intrusion into the current GPS products and availability to use them wherever LightSquared builds out.