

The market should be creating jobs. So then why are all these selfish corporations and financial institutions sitting on their hands and their cash? That's the REAL question that needs to be answered to everyone's satisfaction! We The People own the airwaves so companies using public airwaves should comply with reasonable Network Neutrality rules of nondiscrimination. Now I'd like to make some points on why AT&T T Mobil merger should be denied by the FCC and yes have filed them already in the FCC docket on the merger (11-65). When has a merger/takeover EVER created more jobs, not less jobs? - All T-Mo retail stores will be closed. Those people will be let go. - The T-Mo back office and call center. Gone. - A lot of the network and wireless people, gone. The answer never. However, AT&T probably made backroom promises to the CWA Union that it "promises" not to lay off union workers, but will do exactly that after the merger goes through. That being said anyone of the opinion AT&T's mergers are good for the country are brought to us and paid for by AT&T. I don't know why I waste my breath I'll just give the bullet points. 1. AT&T wants Ma Bell back together 2. Ma Bell style monopoly = BAD 3. AT&T would kick their own mother down the stairs to make a buck 4. AT&T will buy anyone's opinion and spread any lie to make this work. "We The People" own the airwaves and are SUPPOSED to control what happens to them? That means radio, telephone, TV, internet - all forms of over-the-air communication - we own it. Not Comcast, not Verizon, not AT&T, not CBS/Viacom or Time-Warner, we do. So why shouldn't we build it up, control it and manage it how we see fit. Second, just because it's a "free" market, doesn't mean it's the Wild West or a lawless, do whatever you want, make-it-up-as-you-go-along kinda situation. That's always the last bastion of the greedy, who can't think of a better, cogent, argument, "Lower taxes & deregulate! Allow the free market to self-police itself!" Can you say, "ENRON"? Can you say, "BERNIE MADOFF"? I knew you could. Because that's how monopolies happen. Did you really want Walmart to be your bank? And that's why the news media won't cover those that own them and create or cause bad press - ever see ABC or CBS cover Disney or Viacom, respectively? Yeah, right! Finally name one merger/acquisition that ended up creating more ACTUAL jobs than those that are lost - not those BS "net gain" jobs that the government keeps touting. The market should be creating jobs. So then why are all these selfish corporations and financial institutions sitting on their hands and their cash? That's the REAL question that needs to be answered to everyone's satisfaction!
