

When so many scientific studies have been done since 1946 on the VERY harmful effects of wireless communication, does the money still muddy the waters? There are children in homes with wireless games and the whole home invaded by radiation. Yet the money talks and the children are allowed to get sick and die.

There is so much research published.