

The NFL blackout rule is antiquated. With the high cost of cable/satellite reception, and the fact that some stadiums are larger than others, the blackout rule is ridiculous. The media pay a high fee to carry the sports programs and should be allowed to broadcast them to their subscribers. The NFL (a private corporation) is subsidized by too many tax dollars as it is.