

TV has become ridiculously obscene. It is now a tool for the uneducated to promote shamelessness and bad life decisions. Subliminal bombardments of sex, drugs, and violence on a daily basis are destroying our society, and much of popular music is just as bad. Why should we let this get any further out of control? I am not talking about one, or even a handful of programs. Everywhere I turn, it's jokes about sex and farting and titties. What happened to dignity, and respect for the intelligence of the audience? I am 26 years old, and I've always felt ashamed to watch many things on television with my family. MTV seems to be the worst and most popular offender, but it is an entire industry.

HOW CAN WE STOP THIS?
