

Please stop allowing the NFL to blackout home games on cable tv which haven't met their attendance numbers. Instead of "blackout", it should be referred to as "blackmail" since they are literally forcing fans to pay excessive amounts of money to view the games. If not enough people pay their expensive ticket prices, we either have to miss the game completely or travel to another region to view it. This is not right! Thank you for your time.