

I use and rely on GPS navigation daily as I fly my GA aircraft, under both IFR and VFR flight rules, to events for business and pleasure. Conventional navigational aids have been reduced or eliminated by FAA for cost saving requirements and so now GPS is required to fly IFR into many airfields that I transit.

GPS signal integrity is a safety of flight issue for me.