

Being an avid boater, biker and travelling salesman, I rely on my many GPS devices to guide me through most of my personal and professional life. Any proposal that has a chance of even remotely affecting my GPS signals could not only severely hamper my daily activities, but when on the open water in my sailboat, could even endanger my life and those with me. I'm actually very concerned that your agency is even considering any action that could possibly create such havoc, so please deny any request that could do so.
