

?No? to LightSquared!

GPS is too important to have interference from a "new" system - new systems need to demonstrate zero interference to existing heavily used electronic systems.

NO to lightsquared - they tried to FORCE the FCC to comply to THEM! It is the other way around!