

Hello - please retract your support for LightSquared's proposal for bandwidth use. I don't mean to sound overly critical but it is surprising that their proposal made it past the first round of review. Whether slight or significant, placing the security of boaters who rely on GPS in jeopardy is, as I am sure you agree, not acceptable. It is part of the FCC mandate to protect the population, please make good on that promise.

Thank you,
Harry Goldberg