

GPS is so important for water navigation that no other system should be allowed to compromise it. Save the the system in which so many place their trust .