

Being Deaf, I find that's necessary for me to have two or more providers to use VideoPhones. I have two VideoPhone devices with two different phone numbers that they provided. One is at home and the other one is used for traveling. Now I see that I am in favor for two providers as I can reach my wife or anyone else if one provider is unable to receive my call or hold on busy. I also can try second VRS provider if I need to reach my doctor or others like in case of emergency.

I also support per minute method of compensate.

Sincerely,

Merle Foley
