

» ¿ The authority to interrupt wireless services should ONLY be allowed in cases where a REAL threat to public safety exists., such as bomb-threats, not a riot or protest.

This authority should NEVER be allowed to:

- 1) Disrupt non-violent public demonstrations.
- 2) Disrupt ANY private communications because the requesting agency does not agree with the opinions or topics being discussed.

Our constitutionally-protect free speech rights include the right to demonstrate against government policies, disagree and criticize elected officials on ALL levels of government, and encourage people to take non-violent action to change or alter those policies.

In the case of an emergency where a REAL threat is perceived, the service should be restored IMMEDIATELY after the threat is neutralized or mitigated.
