

I have a family member with ALS, friends with speech impairments, and additionally, I currently work as an activities director at an adult day health center where there are a number of clients (6-10) who may certainly benefit from this service if they could be both seen and heard in their communications. VID-STS can provide access to emergency services not available to many potential users now.