

I use GPS devices for family travel and fishing outings on open water along with ice fishing opportunities. Money and my time to learn how to use these devices would be lost if they are not reliable. I know that the fishing industry of southern Lake Michigan would be greatly affected without these units. Please take into account of who was here first. Thank you.