

I use my GPS out on Lake Michigan and I have needed it more than once because of fog. I would of never found the channel to White Lake. Also I needed it to get back to the boat launch out of Monroe Michigan on Lake Erie. A storm moved in and I could no longer see shore. My GPS plots a track to follow so I can return the same way I came out.