

I am an electrical engineer, a boater and an aircraft pilot. As an engineer, I can not understand how Lightsquared was originally issued a permit to use the frequency spectrum for broadband when the spectrum was immediately adjacent to the frequencies used for GPS. As a user of GPS in maritime and aviation navigation I strongly suggest that the Lightsquared permit be recinded.