

Hi,

I use my GPS on my 23ft boat to take my family and friends out for a day of fun and fishing. In the event of foul weather I know that I have a reliable track to follow back to my home port. That leaves my mind at ease and I can enjoy my time out on the water. If that were not the case I would not be able to venture as far and would always have to keep an eye on the weather which would make the day stressful . Please do not approve anything that is going to interrupt GPS signals. Also how would a pilot navigate in foul weather without GPS. Thank You.
