

I believe we need more affordable wireless services for smaller less populated areas. Senior citizens need more affordable wireless choices because most of them are on fixed incomes and the big companies never think to offer deals to them.