

Please say "No" to LightSquared's current proposal to offer a new cellular broadband service that appears to interfere with GPS signals that I use to navigate the land in my car. My wife and I are senior citizens that rely heavily on the accuracy of the GPS system. Thank you for your time.