PARTIAL RESPONSE TO INFORMATION REQUEST BY COX
COMMUNICATIONS, INC.

Cox Communications, Inc. and Cox TMI Wireless, LLC (collectively for purposes of this response “Cox”) hereby provides its initial response to the information and document requests issued by the Wireless Telecommunications Bureau on March 8, 2012. Cox is submitting this initial submission primarily in response to questions requesting a narrative response or to those document requests where responsive documents have already been filed or no relevant documents have been found to exist. As noted in the cover letter to this submission, Cox is working diligently with its vendor to collate and organize responsive documents for submission pursuant to the instructions in the information and document request. Cox anticipates that this Document Production will begin promptly after the Commission has completed its review of Cox’s proposed document custodian list.

1. Provide an organization chart and personnel directory in effect since January 1, 2010, for the Company as a whole and for each of the Company’s facilities or divisions involved in any activity relating to any Relevant Wireless Product or any Relevant Wireless Service.

Response

Cox has previously provided its current organization chart and personnel directory. Cox does not maintain records of its previous organization charts.

5. Provide a timeline of discussions concerning the Proposed Transaction, including:
(a) dates of various discussions between principals and representatives of the parties; (b) dates of meetings of the boards of directors where the matter was discussed; and (c) dates of interactions between advisors and the boards of directors or management. Provide all plans, analyses, and reports presented at these discussions, meetings, and interactions.

Response

[BEGIN CONFIDENTIAL]

[END CONFIDENTIAL]

Documents responsive to Item 5 will be provided in the Document Production.

7. Describe in detail Cox's efforts to negotiate roaming agreements, including whether your company signed any roaming or wholesale agreements, and provide a timeline for all negotiations. Explain how any difficulties that Cox experienced in reaching roaming agreements with Verizon Wireless affected Cox's decision not to continue plans to become a facilities-based mobile wireless service provider. Provide all plans, analyses, and reports from 2008 to the present, discussing: (a) past or current roaming or wholesale negotiations and agreements; (b) consideration of roaming or wholesale proposals or agreements; and (c) the cost of roaming or wholesale – including but limited to discussions between Cox and Verizon Wireless.

Documents responsive to Item 7 will be provided in the Document Production.

9. Provide all plans, analyses, and reports discussing the Company's use or future use of Wi-Fi networks in the provision of services to wireless service providers, including:
 - a. the benefits to wireless service providers of having access to Wi-Fi networks for the provision of wireless services (e.g., for network management, such as through offloading of traffic, or the provision of enhanced services), and any valuation of having such access, including any competitive implication for wireless service providers;
 - b. how the Proposed Transaction and the Agreements would affect the Company's use or future use of its Wi-Fi networks in the provision of services to wireless service providers; or
 - c. any potential or actual agreements, partnerships, or arrangements that the Company has to supply Wi-Fi network services to any wireless service provider

REDACTED FOR PUBLIC INSPECTION

To the extent the Company has entered into any agreements, partnerships, or arrangements subject to subsection (c), provide a copy of such agreements, partnerships, or arrangements.

RESPONSE

Cox interprets this item to request from Cox only those documents directly relevant to Cox. Thus its response is limited to pages 18 to 20 of the Public Interest Statement and the declaration of Suzanne Fenwick, Executive Director for Corporate Development for Cox, attached thereto as Exhibit 4, and to pages 37 to 40 of the Joint Opposition. Cox cited several Cox press releases in pages 37 to 40 of the Joint Opposition and provided URLs to each. No other documents are relevant to this item.
