Re: Notice of Ex Parte Presentation, PS Docket No. 12-94

Dear Ms. Dortch:

On April 12, 2012, the undersigned and Chris Putala of Putala Strategies, LLC, representing Alcatel-Lucent, met with Charles Mathias, Senior Counsel and Legal Advisor to Chairman Genachowski.

In the meeting, the representatives for Alcatel-Lucent discussed the Commission's continued authority to permit the current waiver recipients to deploy public safety broadband networks (PSBNs) as well as Commission authority to permit additional jurisdictions to commence early PSBN deployment. The undersigned also described the public interest benefits of authorizing early deployment of the PSBN to expedite provision of critical communications capabilities to first-responders. Early deployment has the benefit of providing practical knowledge to inform the forthcoming build out of the nationwide PSBN, which can best be achieved through real-world experience. Furthermore, these deployments will leverage infrastructure and funding that could ease the burden on the scarce federal funds allocated to the forthcoming nationwide network.

Please contact the undersigned with any questions in connection with this submission.

Respectfully submitted,
