

One of the complaints broadcasters have about this proposed rule is that it doesn't apply to cable networks also. I think the FCC should eventually extend the order to cable news channels. For requiring broadcasters to comply with enhanced disclosure is a start.