

To FCC Commissioners Genachowski, Clyburn and McDowell:

I strongly disagree with monopolizing media. Information must be free and the right to have it must be free too.

Big corporations don't have the public interest in their minds and right now they control more than half of what we read and watch. That's more than enough.

FCC was created to protect the public voice and we expect them to honor that mandate. We demand of you to work on behalf of the people not corporations.
