

As a blind person I demand equal access to set top boxes and other communication devices. There is no excuse in 2012 for these devices to not be fully accessible to blind people. The law requires equal access and to grant a waiver to the telecom industry will do nothing but undermine the laws in place.