

Cyber security also protects financial networks and keeps the money belonging to citizens engaged in online banking and investors on Wall Street safe.