

Hello, I just received a phone call from 0000000000 which tried to solicit me to receive $20,000 from "The U.S. Government." Then, the person on the other end suddenly hung up. I am convinced this was a phishing attempt, and would like to inform whomever is concerned about it. Perhaps steps should be taken to ensure that this person(s) does not manage to get information to use for criminal activities. If this is not the appropriate avenue to report such activity, please redirect me.
