

Today I was alerted by cwa-union.org to an alarming issue. Please reconsider the deal proposed between Verizon Wireless and the nation's largest cable companies including Comcast and Time Warner where they will begin to sell each other's products and services. I am a satisfied Verizon customer and I give them my business because they offer the best coverage for me. But my eyes are open to their greed. I always have to keep a look out for hidden fees and charges. The idea of them joining forces with large cable companies is scary. It feels like a major step towards monopoly. If you approve their dealings together, please keep a close on how they deal together. I appreciate any reasonable effort on your part to help protect consumers like me. Thanks for your time.
