

Allowing this conglomeration will hurt consumers with higher prices and less choice. Competition in the open marketplace is what makes America strong, not back-room deals and price fixing.