

I think it would be detrimental to consumer rights for the large corporations (Verizon, Time Warner and Comcast) to merge or combine in any way. Their interests would override any concerns for fair pricing and do away with competition and consumer choice. Please carefully review any plans to let them join together.