

I concur with the issues stated regarding Verizon Fios and its planned partnership with cable providers. I currently live in a residential area that does not have Fios and the plan to install it does not exist by Verizon. Verizon and the cable companies do not, must enter into any sort of partnership. This would be a disadvantage for consumers and I protest it whole heartly.