

Why are you even considering letting Verizon and Comcast merge? That's a sure start back down the road to monopolies controlling everything. I thought the whole idea was competition!