

I find it very disconcerting that the FCC could approve this deal between Verizon, Comcast, and Time Warner. How does this benefit the consumer? In essence the FCC is giving its approval for these companies to divvy up profits at the expense of competition and the consumer.