

Given the compatibility problems that affected the market for 3G services and that all carriers even those without 4G LTE but WiMax and HSPA+ are planning to transition to LTE all carriers wireless networks should be interoperable with each other's. AT&T, T-Mobile, Sprint and Verizon Wireless customers should have the flexibility to use the device of their choice on the carrier of their choice. This is good for competition.