

We need an Open Internet to freely communicate and participate in our great democracy and for the FCC to reclassify broadband under Title II. Thanks to the U.S. Supreme Court's egregious Citizens United ruling our republic is in danger of becoming a plutocracy. Harvard Law Professor Lawrence Lessig has written Republic Lost explaining how the corporate special interests are buying Congress and our government. The FCC should also implement and enforce 700 MHz Interoperability rules on the major wireless carriers opening the door to more competition and strengthen the online enhanced disclosure rules for broadcasters with public interest obligations.

In Bush v. Gore the U.S. Supreme Court outrageously overreached using the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution overturning another SCOTUS ruling Dred Scott v. Sanford ruling that African Americans cannot be citizens of the U.S. to stop the recount in Florida and hand the Presidency to George W. Bush.
