To whom it may concern:

I recently purchased time slots on a local Las Vegas television station. I was informed that beginning in 2006 I would be responsible to purchase closed captioning for the program. At this time, I would like to request an exemption from closed captioning requirements due to undue burden. Our program is educational and informative. For example, we will have information to help homeowners keep from losing their homes to foreclosure, along with family recreation ideas and safety tips.

The program will produce well under the $3,000,000 minimum and any additional production costs at this time will terminate the project.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Carla Baker, producer
