

Open Internet protections should extend to fiber and wireless services too not just copper DSL and cable modem delivered fixed broadband services.