

In Section 97.905, Element credit is given to holders of expired Amateur Radio licenses of all classes.

If exam credit is perpetual, I see no reason for the licenses issued to have a 10 year, or any, term. It would reduce expense and paperwork for all concerned if Amateur license grants were for the operator's lifetime.

Lifetime license grants are currently in use in other countries, e.g. the UK.