

Seriously the FCC thinks a Nationwide Broadband Public Safety Network is possible yet most Americans still cannot even get what most would consider Broadband in there home or business?