Re: DA 12-1863, IB Docket No. 12-340; RM-11683

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

I am in the media affairs business where communication is my livelihood. When I meet with a client, I must have fast and secure internet access to properly present my presentations. So often I find myself in major cities, like Detroit, where internet access and/or my phone device are useless.

My concern about the mobile broadband network is based on the fact that the number of companies providing service seems to be contracting instead of increasing. This development is not good for consumers in particular and our economy in general.

LightSquared is a company that has a proposal pending before the FCC that will go a long way to alleviate my concerns about the clear lack of significant competition. With so few companies offering service we need more LightSquarreds to enter the market to better serve the public and help our economy.

Numerous studies have shown that HUGE amounts of business are being done on devices using broadband networks. That means jobs and that also means taxes to address another major issue, our fiscal mess—a discussion for another forum.

I ask that you do everything in your power to allow LightSquared to move ahead with their business plan. They have a sound proposal pending before the FCC and it should be approved.

Please work with LightSquared so that we can all benefit. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Jacob Davison
