

Dear Mr. Chairman:

I understand why media conglomerates want more ownership between the six of them controlling most of the information we receive: economies of scale, good for business. What is good for business is often anathema to democracy. The FCC should be promoting more diversity, more corporate ownership, more free speech. Media consolidation has been and continues to be bad policy. The FCC should not change the rules behind the scenes and without public comment.

Please abandon this misguided policy.

Thank you.
