

I support consumers having a choice of service providers for their communication needs. I would not want to see one provider which would create a monopoly. Competition is what has made America great and should continue in all aspects of life. Competition will promote better products and service as well as allowing citizens to make their own decision and not have to accept one made by an agency or the government.